

Need help filing your financial statements online?

Try our new animated demonstration.

It is important that incorporated societies file their annual financial statements as this indicates to the Registrar that the society is still operating and should remain on the register.

The easiest way to file your financial statements is online.

With the introduction of our new animated demonstration 'How to file a financial statement' filing an electronic claim could not be easier!

The animated demonstration steps you through the entire process from entering your registry key, uploading and certifying the uploaded statement. You can also pause and rewind the demonstration allowing you to learn in your own time.

This demonstration is available now at www.societies.govt.nz
