

What is RSS?

RSS, short for Really Simple Syndication or Rich Site Summary, allows you to keep up to date with Ministry of Economic Development news from this website.

You will need to obtain a news reader, which allows you to subscribe to the various RSS feeds you want and display them.

A number of news readers are available, some of which work in your browser and others which must be downloaded and installed on your machine. Check that the one you choose is compatible with your operating system.

View a short video explaining what an RSS feed is here

News Readers

Windows

Newz Crawler

FeedDemon

Awasu

Mac OS X:

Newsfire

Net NewsWire

Web:

Bloglines

My Yahoo!

NewsGator

Note | The New Zealand Companies Office is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

The following RSS feeds are now available from this website

What's New

To receive news updates from this website, click on the  button on the homepage of this website, then drag or cut and paste the URL of the RSS feed into your news reader.

Your news reader will periodically fetch the latest news from this site.

Public notices

To receive the latest public notices updates from this website, click on the  button on the Public notices section of this website, then drag or cut and paste the URL of the RSS feed into your news reader. There are two separate feeds on this page, you can choose to receive public notices updates for incorporated societies and for charitable trusts.

Once subscribed, your news reader will periodically fetch the latest public notice updates from this site.